

SALES AND MARKETING ENABLEMENT

Video & Webinar Training

In today's digital world, video training can be an interactive and creative way to train employees, partners, prospects, or customers. They can also be used on your website as fresh, engaging content. Video training is unique in that it allows the viewer to access the training at a time that is convenient for them, keeps the viewer visually engaged, and can be replayed over and over. Similar to in-person training sessions, videos can include a guided workbook and best practices for how to bring your product or solution to market. Our senior-level consultants have crafted training modules for implementing effective strategies for SEO/SEM, websites/landing pages, value propositions, digital marketing, event planning, ROI tools, nurture marketing, and more. Let Extra Mile Marketing develop an engaging video training series to train your audience.

To discuss options for a video training to help your team achieve their sales goals, send us a quick email or call us at (425) 746-1572, and we'll set-up a meeting.

