

SALES AND MARKETING ENABLEMENT

Sales Training Decks & Customer Scenarios

If your organization is technically oriented, but faces challenges with turning your product or solution into a deliverable sales message, Extra Mile Marketing can help. We understand the needs of the customer and create compelling and well-designed sales training decks to help prepare your internal teams to sell a specific product or solution. Our training materials and presentations enable your sales team to quickly learn about the opportunity and enable them to have productive conversations with customers and prospects. Sales training decks include typical customer-use scenarios, target audience pain points, conversation-starting questions, the value of the solution, plus key benefits and features.

To discuss options for sales training decks & scenarios to help your team achieve their sales goals, send us a quick email or call us at (425) 746-1572, and we'll set-up a meeting.

